The Conservative publishes the following account of the Lawrence; measure, from one of its editors just returned from the ruins:

We arrived in Lawrence at To'clock. Flying rumors had painted a terrible picture, but the reality exceeded the report. We found Messichasetts aireet one mass of amouldering ruins and crambiling walls, the light from which cast a sickening glare upon the crowds of excited men and distracted women gasing apon the ruins of their once happy homes.

The guests at the Eldridge House were ordered out, their rooms pillaged, and some of the people shot. Two men from Ohlo were wounded there, and are now in this city.

Only the presence and persuaptory orders of Quantrel prevented the massicre of all the occupants.

After they had been marched about on the streets, the rebels were told there was a ne-gro beby still in the house. They said, "We will burn the G-d d-d little brai up," and they did. We saw its charred remains, burned as black as the hearts of its murderers.

The books of the County and District Clerks were burned, but those of the Register of Deeds were in the safe, and are supposed to have been saved. Every safe in the city but two was robbed. In the Eidridge store, James Eidridge and James Perrine gave the rebells all the money in the safe, and were temmedistely shot down.

All the hotels were destroyed, except the City Hotel. The loss in cash, is estimated at $250,000, and on property and all, at two million dollars. This is a low enough estimate. The number of bodies, up to the time we left, was 118; of which shout it wenty were burned so bedly as to render recognition impossible. There were a large number of strangers in town, and when the entire loss is ascertained, we think it will reach 150 killed. Many were doubtless killed by the rebel pickets in the bush.

The people have not yel recovered from the terrible blow sufficiently to appreciate the full force of their desolation, and when they do recover from the shock, many mere will doubtless be missing.

We have seen battle fields and scenes of carnage and bloodshed, but have sever witnessed a specialor so horrifying as that scene among the smouldering ruins at Lawrence. No fighting, no resistance, but cold blooded murwas there. We give below a list of the killiod, and several wounded:

The fiends finished their munderous work in nearly every case. This list is all white men. A few negroes were killed, but we did not secertain their names.

The works of the enemy on the fiver are reported very strong. Parapets not less than 15 feet wide, and several water batteries on a level with the river, are discovered.

Moored at the wharf here were two steamers, and opposite the city a positoon bridge of forty seven boats. The largest of the steamers was sunk by our fire, and a smaller one disabled. Many farloughed men of Punberton's army are coming into our sage to his wife, but the villains refused, and puting a gen to his forehead while he lay on the ground, blew his braha out. They then left, and when at last his body was found, it was horribly mutilated by the hegs.

The citizens of the neighborhood, on hearing of the outrage, immediately resolved to procure the necessary arms and assummitton for their defense. They succeeded, and last Monday a company of laty men was formed. On Wednesday they cleaned out a gang under a noted guerills named Bob Floid, and in a few days, it is confidently believed, there will be but few desperadoes in that section of Tennessee.

The James River is full of torpodoes. Very gloomy feelings prevailed regarding-charieston, and although confidence is felt in Beauregard, there was but little hope of a favorable result, and the people are prepared for the worst.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

ardred from Newbern, with dates from our correspondent of yesterday, who writes as follows:

The rebot newspapers in this State and Virginia clamor loudly for the suppression of the fields historians, the official paper of the State, which bits defiance to Jeff. Davis and all the destructives in the Southern Confidency, its circulation is larger than that of any other journal in the South, and is rapidly increasing, which, together with the endorsement of its course by upblic meetings in different parts of the State, indicate conclusively that it but expresses the winhas of the people of North Carolina.

THE PERPETRATORS GET CLEAR WITH $70,000 BOOTY.

Br. Louis, Aug. 24, 1868. and private vaterman vyantman, discovered that the front or Fourth street door of the United States Express Company's office was open. The gas, as usual, was burning inside. Owing to the warmth of the night, the windows on St. Charles street had been left open. The officers entered; and found the clerklying almost thesensible, and in an apparentity suffering condition upon his bed, in the middle of the large front hall. Near alm were a guita persua bothle, containing chloroform, three sponges, and at his head a piece of cotton cloth, that evidently had been saturated with chloroform. At the chicance of a few rods stood the Express Company's money safe, with its door open, and the key in the door. With very much difficulty, and after the lapse of a considerable interval, the eleck was partially aroused; his muscles seemed at first singularly rigid, and his distation rather siarantag. In the back room, on his couch, lay the porter saleop, with a fourth aponge mear his face. He was awakened without much difficulty. The safe was found to have been colled of the suites constant of a time.

NOMETH CAROLINA HANFESTO.

The attention excited by the Peace manifesto published, with the approbation of Gov. Vanca, in the Releigh (North Carolina) Standard, is at this moment undivided. The point in the document which first challenges remark, is not its proposition for a cosmition of houtfilties and the restoration of Human Sistery to its old destratin the body politic; but its frank, unduguied and manly confession that the war on the part of the South is causeless; that the South had no wrongs for which it could not have obtained redress in the Union; that secession is not a sudden impulse, but the result of a carefully matured and long digested conspiracy; that the South and the Government are substantially right—these are the Rema directly stated or admitted by implication, that, while they excell cour astonishment, considering the source whence they come, they ought to make every Copperhead in the loyal States hang his head for ahame. There is not a Copperheaded lie which these role North Carolinans do, nest disprove—not one. Treaton and malignity have now but one resource—so lie more furiously than ever. FROM FORT LEAVENWORTH.

[Correspondence of the Chicago Tribuna.]
Four Leavenwoorse, Kareas, Aug. 18, 1801.
As a citizen of Chicago, I am very proud of the course that your paper is taking la regard to matters in this Department, and the heart of every loyal man in it swells with gratitude that there is one disinterested paper that has regular graduate of West Point, and was in the regular army for a long while, and possess-as all the pre-slavery sentiment usually found with regular samy efficers, and this is an ob-lection, as he is now in a position to persecute those who thigh differently from him. Dur-ing the fall and winter, he was suggest in a campage with Generals Binnt and Herron, and while Schofield was present and in com-mand, that army did nothing. In his absence, is fought and won the Biorions battles of matter.
Thus stand by the Government and the laws of the land, and the lower classes are soft. Let the soldiers be untrammeled by the rules and opposition of Copperhesds; suppress the mobe of disloyal parties; support the Administration and in Automatic the soldiers and in Automatic the soldiers.

The Rebel Loan.

The following correspondence with regard to the Confederate loan has passed between one of the holders and Mr. McRee, who acted as agent from the Confederate States for its confederation. The speaker was a Southern man; no drop of his blood was of Northern origin, but he was for the Government of the United States, when it waged a war with rebels and tratfors. The Government will triamph, and the right must eventually provail. No matter who gais between the Government and its enemies, he must go down. [Cheers]

Once Benedict Arnold was fallowed and commended; but all that will be corrected. No favors are to be saked of the Copperheads at home. They say they will furnish no men or means to support the army. What of that? The smy that has swept rebellion from the West will take eare of themselves, and if they are not fed, they will favoid hemselves, and if they are not fed, they will feed themselves. [Cheers.] As the Union soldiers grow strong, the country grows strong, the country grows strong, the country grows strong, the country grows atrong, as their arms grow weak, the land becomes weak. This is not time to speak of the issues of the day, as a lawyer speaks of a case of assault and battery. In allusion to the arrests made in the land, the speaker contended that not two arrests had been made when twenty were needed. If men conducted themselves as etc. Items, no arrests would own havebeen deemed necessary. (Applanus). The always his better the sation of the first the strength and provisions to the rebel armies, and wherever the strength of the rebel is found, it is to be hit in the head. The riots in New York received the speakers condemnation. He refered to the outgage practised on negroes, and delared that at no place in the South would such a state of affairs have been tolerated.

The election in this Sinte is approaching, and the speaker spoke not as a partison, but if he was one he could drop all his partison-ship for his country's sake, at a time like the present. Av TER POLICE COURT.—About strty eases were disposed of yesterday, principally charged with being drunk and disorderly.

Two individuals, who gave their names as James Pinket and Margaret Sheridan, were examined yesterday, charged with fornication, and each bound over tor their appearance before the Recorder, in the penal sum of 4000.

— Jim McCale, a seedy looking Irishman, was found drunk on Kiuzie street Seturday night. At the Police Court he exhibited a marriage fleense, political out his lady-love, and was willing to be married in the folice Court, and they were discharged upon their promise to go hefore some other Justice and course of construction of the suits of th tain hours every three minutes. It is also under consideration to run cars at stated intervals—any every hour—during the night. There are times in the middle of the day, and between five and six o'clock, when it will probably be quite impossible to accommodate with seats all those who desire to ride, and it is necless for the residents of the West Division to complain of this, as there is not one of them but that would become desperately mad if the conductor should refuse to stop for him, even if there were assessly in the car, and his only chance was to "hang on." We have no doubt the West Side Councay will do every thing they can for the convenience of their patrons, and in this landable desire to satisfy, their house should be held up, and their efforts appreciated.

[From Our Own Correspondent]
Dasariansas, Ang. 24, 1865.
The fourth annual camp meeting of the M.
E. Church of Chicago, commenced its services at this place to day, and they will be continued until Saturday night next. This closing in Saturday is an innevation upon the previous year's observance, they having heretol are lasted from Monday to Monday. This mon-vation is justified upon the plea of a certain moral and religious necessity. Heretofore, the railroads affording simple facilities, large numbers have visited the camp on the Sabasti the railroads affording simple facilities, large numbers have visited the camp on the Sabbath from Chicago and other points, without any interest to join in its religious exercises, but aimply as summent spekers, and the camp thus made a secular resort for secular pleasures, and oftentimes debanckery by por-sons who have no sympathy with those who-esther for religious observances. Under Alderman Roberts moved that the avesa-ment be declared vold on the ground that un-der is the North Chicago Railway Company were assessed for $1,00. He said that the oth-had no right to assess the Reilway Company at all, and that this would invalidate the assess-and no right to assess the parties? Company and all, and that this would invalidate the assessments.

Alderman Comisky asked if the Railway Company were not under soligation to assist in improving the streets. He had understood that the ordinance for which he voted contained that provision.

Mr. Ayers, (the corporation counsel) explained that the ordinance, as originally drafted, contained as provision to that effect, but that the clause was afterwised to examine the original ordinance on file, together with the record, and report immediately. After a brief examination he reported that another "Section 1" had been substituted for, and pasted over the original "Section 7, containing the provision aforesaid, said that the ordinance, as finally pissed and recorded, contained no provision of the kind.

ON BALLBOADS.

Aid. Holden called up the report of the grant of the committee on Ballroads.

Aid. Waish supported the proposed ordinance, aliging that one of the circutors whose owners were among the remonstrants, had paid for itself two or three times over within three years. He thought that the remonstrants had more sympathy for the lows fariners than for their immediate neighbors. He said that the difference in cost between loosing the lumber in the yard, and hauting it to the depot, was but 7/4 cents; that if, as was alleged, several provisions of this ordinance were embedded in ordinances alresing in existence, the remonstrants would softer no injury by their re cauciment. The Alderman waxed vehimnent as he proceeded, and commented with a me warmt upon a portion of the report under consideration, which seemed to attribute to Railroads an squal right to the arcets of the city with seriously vehicles, and said that the doctrine of the report was unwarranted by law and by New York Stock and Money Markes Aug. 24, Mos Nr.—Supply abundant and rates asy at $50 to ent. on call. To show that the Onloago Tones and the committee were en support, he read a briefaxtreet from the Those, of last Friday, suggesting to etitisms aggrieved by railread annous ances, to beath themselves in enforcing the ordinances. With regard to the section relating to the escaped of codensed steam, he remarked that the clasirman of the committee had declared to him, that, in his opinion, that section ought to pass at ony rate.
